Written for the web by Elizabeth Bishop, Senior Internet News Producer

In 2000 John and Patsy Ramsey posted a composite sketch by a psychic on their Web site they said was a suspect their daughter's murder.

The sketch was drawn based on the work of psychic Dorothy Allison who said she helped police investigators. Allison died in 1999. She said she a vision of the suspect came to her during an appearance on a network television show in 1998.

Along with the picture, the Ramsey's site said: "Have you seen this man? This man may have been in the Boulder area in December 1996. ... We firmly believe that this most horrible of killers will be caught based on information provided by people who care about right and wrong. ... Please help, so another innocent child will not be a victim and another family will not suffer unbearable grief."

The Boulder police chief in 2000 declined to comment on the sketch.
